

MEMORANDUM OF UNDERSTANDING

BETWEEN

The National University, Sudan (NUSU)
POB3763 Khartoum 11111
represented by Prof. Dr. Qurashi M. Ali
President of NUSU

AND

Lecturio GmbH, Käthe-Kollwitz-Str. 1, 04109 Leipzig represented by Dr. Lutz Mücke,
Director Institutional Partnerships Africa

Lecturio is the world's leading eLearning platform for health education of its kind, covering all key medical and nursing concepts taught by top educators from well-known schools and faculties like Harvard, Yale, Johns Hopkins, UCL. NUSU is one of the leading and innovative private universities in Sudan.

The objectives of the MoU are deepening the relation and build a bilateral partnership between The National University of Sudan and Lecturio. Lecturio will support NUSU in establishing a comprehensive and advanced eLearning strategy and platform for medical education. And both parties will do their best to find favourable and attractive conditions for the partnership.

The signatories see the opportunities of a close collaboration and agree that they will cooperate with each other in good faith and with the joint objective of successfully and expeditiously concluding and carrying out this memorandum.

The parties understand what a MoU stands for and that it is not a legal contract.

Signed in Khartoum, August 28, 2022, by

Representative The National University of Sudan

Representative Lecturio

Scanned with
MOBILE SCANNER